

Limited Perception

by Carole Suzanne Jackson

Standing in the church corridor, I noticed a woman walk by in a revealing, sheer white dress. While pretending not to see her over-exposed shapely form, I thought, Flaunting it. And in church, no less!

Later, I stopped in the restroom before entering the sanctuary. Panic gripped me when adjusting my clothes; I discovered I'd forgotten to wear my slip. The mirror revealed the outline of my white undergarments.

Another case of flaunting it! I felt trapped. I cracked open the door for a peek before venturing out; wall-to-wall people.

With my Bible and notebook pressed in strategic places, I crossed the foyer and slid into the pew against the back wall. Then a few minutes before the pastor dismissed the congregation, I dashed out. Scurrying to my car, I could almost hear God chuckling at my new understanding of humility.

~

Acknowledge your limited perception and ask God to forgive any judgmental attitudes.

*"For in the same way you
judge others,
you will be judged,
and with the measure you use,
it will be measured to you."*

(NIV)

Matthew 7:2

Restored by Touch ~Reaching deep with gentle touch.